

Project– Glasgow casino Architect– Real Studios Contractor– Thomas Johnstone

This breathtaking cubicle concept was designed in conjunction with London design consultancy —Real studios using the Decra Lattice full height concept. Lightweight mdf core panels are faced with ribbed texture laminate from the Polyrey Strie range and a rebated hardwood edge added to create a linear appearance. Partition panels have an inlay strip of laminate in a contrast colour to house the double toilet roll holder and this also creates an interesting visual contrast. The casino in Springfield Quay Glasgow is part of the Clyde regeneration project.
