

Project– former church– Prince of Wales Road– Chalk Farm– Staron acrylic units Sept 07

Architects– AHMM in Clerkenwell, chose Staron bright white colour acrylic for the reception desk and kitchen unit for this former church which has been converted to an art gallery.

Decra won the contract to fabricate the material– based on our expertise in this field and the minimalist end result suits the type of environment.

The main reception desk was made in 2 pieces and fused on site in such a way that it is difficult to see the joint .
