

Ramsden Hall School in Essex use artwork created by Ray Smith Art in the form of 12mm thick melamine protected laminate wall panels - installed by Decra Ltd.

Decra have worked previously with Ray Smith in conjunction with the laminate provider Formica to produce innovative wall panelling solutions with the added benefit that laminate provides in terms of cleaning, scratch resistance etc. This scheme under the watchfull eye of Essex County Council Built Environment department shows the use of Ray's skill at creating images that are abstract but also give a sense of depth. Decra were first approached by Ray on the strength of our Loo-ART concept which explores the use of off the shelf digital images encapsulated with melamine as well as incorporating clients own images (subject to the right image/file type)

For a discussion on the use of digital images for these applications please contact our sales department.
