Decra Levada trough in Corian Bisque white

Decra Levada trough solid surface vanity unit concept installed at 50 Pall Mall Jan 2006

“I Cant believe its not stone” Decra vanity unit installation at 50 Pall Mall Jan 2006

Decra Levada trough vanity unit concept from our Architectura collection of washrooms has been used to stunning effect here in this minimalist setting. Designed by ORMS in conjunction with Decra; solid surfacing material such as Corian is an ideal material to create trough concepts, due to the ease in which the material can be manipulated under heat. Whole life costs compare favourably to natural stone as the material is repairable. Contact Decra for more trough examples
